

Instructions for Maximum Support

Even the toughest of horses will respond to the Perfect Prep Calming System. Follow the regimen below for maximum results.

1. Administer Training Day daily.

Training Day helps stabilize your horse's attitude and encourage focus. Used as a daily addition to your horse's feed, Training Day stabilizes blood sugar levels, relaxes muscles, slows the heart rate, and diminishes reactivity so that your horse "leaves his stall focused and ready to work every day."

2. Switch to Gold Pellets 4 to 6 feedings prior to performance.

Gold pellets are packed with calming ingredients that mimic the effects of Gold paste, making it the most advanced feed-through calming formula available. 1 - 4 scoops per day will relax even the toughest of horses, all while avoiding prohibited substances.

3. Administer Gold Paste at night check and at morning feeding.

Gold offers long acting ingredients that begin working at 6 hours and last up to 18 hours. Ideal for "that sustained golden attitude," the calming effects of Gold build with daily use.

4. Administer Extreme or Supreme 90 minutes prior to performance.

Extreme and Supreme contain quick acting, targeted ingredients that begin working within 1 hour and last up to 6 hours. The formulas are similar, but Supreme contains an extra boost of B vitamins for increased effects.
